4. Scaffolding

4.1 All scaffold erected in Guernsey must comply with the relevant British Standard. In addition, scaffolds erected on or over the public highway require a licence to be granted by the Executive under the terms of The Public Highways Ordinance, 1967. The permission of the relevant parish constable is also necessary.

4.2 Licences granted under the terms of the ordinance will often require specific safety features to ensure that the general public are not put at risk from their erection or the intended use of the scaffold.

4.3 The duty implied by the licence is such that the scaffolding contractor and the hire / user must ensure the safety of the public by whatever means is appropriate. Application must therefore be made in advance of the date of anticipated building of the scaffold. 6.2 This section gives general guidance on appropriate arrangements for the criminal screening of persons that will be working on Housing's premises.

6.3 The Rehabilitation of Offenders (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law 2002 gives a definitive list of the type of areas of work for which a police check is justified. The key areas are:

- Where the person will potentially have access to sensitive information
- Where the person will enter the homes/property of members of the public
- Any position where the normal duties include work in –
 - a school which is exclusively or mainly for the education of children;
 - a hospital or nursing home which is exclusively or mainly for children
 - an institution which is exclusively or mainly for the care or detention of children

disregarding any work which is done on a part of the premises in which children are not looked after, or at times when children are not present

- Where the work is carried out wholly or partly within the precincts of the prison

6.4 There may be other areas falling outside the above definitions for which a police check may be justified.

6.5 The Trade Contractor will be responsible for ensuring that the criminal screening process is carried out on any employees that will be working at residential homes or occupied properties. As this process can take a few weeks, it is advisable that this process is undertaken prior to works being ordered.

6.6 The Trade Contractor must obtain at its own responsibility and expense (current charge of £10 per individual police check), all police checks necessary for the carrying out of works under this contract at the relevant sites or as otherwise advised.

in circumstances where the Trade Contractor simply wishes to find out more about a particular employee or prospective employee and where they are not required to work at the specified locations.

- 6.8 Only information of convictions/ offences, or in certain cases, intelligence relevant to the areas of work should be taken into account, e.g. a conviction for fraud would not necessarily preclude someone working at an occupied property. In addition, consideration must be given to the length of time since the offence occurred, employees previous performance at work etc.
- 6.9 All information relating to the criminal convictions of individuals obtained as part of this process must be treated as highly confidential.
