

Tobacco Products (Guernsey) Ordinance, 2014

Ban on Display of Tobacco Products and Smoking Implements in Retail Outlets.

From 1st June 2015 retail outlets in Guernsey will be prohibited from displaying tobacco products and smoking implements.

What Does a Display Ban Mean?

Tobacco retailers will need to ensure that tobacco products, including individual packets and cartons as well as smoking implements cannot be seen by the public from inside or outside the premises.

Incidental Viewing

The prohibition on display does not apply when tobacco products, including packages and smoking implements, are displayed to a customer at his or her direct request, including during the actual transaction/sale.

When retailers periodically restock their tobacco storage units there may be some unavoidable public viewing of tobacco products or smoking implements in this process.

It is the policy of the Office of Environmental Health and Pollution Regulation to allow such unavoidable viewing which may occur in connection with legitimate and responsibly conducted routine business practices (such as re-stocking shelves or stock-taking in public view). Retailers should, however, ensure that doors or other coverings of storage units are not inadvertently left open after restocking as this may risk enforcement action.

Price Tickets and Price Boards

A licensee may display prices of tobacco products in tobacco-licensed premises providing the display complies with all of condition A and all parts of either (and or) condition B, C or D.

How will the Law be Enforced?

Environmental Health Officers from the Office of Environmental Health and Pollution Regulation will process licence applications and will carry out compliance monitoring and inspections. For many businesses this will be carried out as part of regular visits to premises (e.g. food premises inspections). Inspections will also occur in response to complaints received by the department.

The Office of Environmental Health and Pollution Regulation uses a range of strategies to encourage and enhance compliance including the provision of advice, education, formal warnings and, where proportionate, legal notices and / or prosecution.
