Subject	Age limits for training courses and degree funding
Date of questions	20 th February, 2018

Question 1

Paragraph 6.6.4 on page 27 of the Longer Working Lives policy letter¹, debated by the States earlier this month and submitted by the Committee for Employment and Social Security, stated that the Committee for Education, Sport and Culture provides adult career guidance through Careers Guernsey, and that there is funding available through their Student Financing Team, for training courses and degrees. However, that funding is limited to people under 55 years of age: so can the President tell me the reason for that age limit being in place please?

Question 2

Having a 55 and under age limit in place, could be considered to be discriminating against people over the age of 55, so can the President tell me if his committee have any concerns about that please?
