Application to keep a Pet Dog

The intention is to provide those tasked with assessing the suitability of a potential dog owner with a framework of points to raise. This document could be used either as an application form or a check list to go through when undertaking a 'home visit'. Information in blue boxes is provided as a catalyst for conversation and deeper consideration of the risks and responsibilities of dog ownership. The potential dog owner will be asked to sign and date the form to encourage them to provide truthful information. This document can be amended by animal welfare organisations, breeders or landlords to suit their individual needs.

All contact between young children and pets should be directly supervised. This means that an adult:

- is in close range of the child and pet (preferably holding the child or restraining the pet); and,
- can immediately intervene if necessary.

Dog bites:

Information

- As many as half of 12-year-old children will have been bitten by a dog.
- Most dog bites are from a dog known to the child their own dog, a neighbour's, or friend's dog. In many cases the dog bites after being teased or unintentionally annoyed, for example, approaching a dog when it is sleeping or eating.
- Children under the age of 5 years are most at risk of dog bites and are often bitten on the head and face. Bites which may not even break an adult's skin can be devastating on a small child.
