POLICE COMPLAINTS COMMISSION - APPOINTMENT OF TWO MEMBERS

The Presiding Officer
States of Guernsey
Royal Court House

Dear Sir

1 Executive Summary

1.1 The purpose of this Policy Letter is to formally appoint two members of the Police Complaints Commission (“the Commission”).

2 Background

2.1 The Commission was established by the Police Complaints (Guernsey) Law, 2008¹ (“The Law”) and came into effect on 1st July 2011. The Commission is an independent panel which maintains oversight of how complaints against the police are handled.

2.2 The Schedule to the Law sets out the composition of, and appointment process to, the Commission, and establishes that: -

- the Commission shall consist of a Chairman and five ordinary members;
- the Chairman and ordinary members shall be appointed for a term of four years by the States of Deliberation upon the recommendation of the Committee for Home Affairs.

3 Appointment of two new Ordinary Members – 4-year term

3.1 There are currently two vacancies on the Commission.

3.2 Following an open recruitment process that took place earlier this year two candidates have been selected for appointment. Whilst no formal qualifications are required for the role, it is necessary for individuals to be fair, objective and non-judgemental and they must have the ability to read and understand complex matters.

- 3.3 The Committee for Home Affairs is pleased to nominate Miss Rebekah Johnston and Mr Steven Melbourne to be ordinary members of the Commission for a term of four years with immediate effect.
- 3.4 The Chairman of the Commission recommended these appointments and considers that both candidates have the necessary experience and qualities to play a positive role on the Commission and further complement the group's dynamics.
- 3.5 Miss Rebekah Johnston moved to Guernsey four years ago following completing her A-Levels, she is employed as paralegal at Carey Olsen and is currently studying towards a law degree via the Open University. Ms Johnston enjoys sea swimming and keeping fit and volunteers her time to work with the Youth Commission where she provides one -to-one support to young people aiming to boost their confidence and self-esteem. Miss Johnston has applied for this role as she is keen to give back to the community doing something technical but in the background. Miss Johnston was confident in interview. She answered the set questions thoroughly, giving examples and demonstrating that she had the skills required and was able to process complex information and listen to and consider other people's arguments.
- 3.6 Mr Steven Melbourne moved to Guernsey eight years ago and since that time he has become an active member of the community involving himself in Guernsey Rugby development, amongst other things – Mr Melbourne is also a member of the Child & Youth Community Tribunal demonstrating his integrity and commitment to supporting young people who present with challenging behaviours. Prior to moving to Guernsey Mr Melbourne was in the armed forces and worked in the area of media and communications. In interview, Mr Melbourne had a good understanding of what would be expected of him in the role and was able to articulate how he made decisions and was comfortable to be challenged. Mr Melbourne demonstrated his ability to consider and interpret complex information, follow procedures and in making decisions, to have due regard to all who may be impacted.
- 3.7 In interview both candidates communicated well and presented their views confidently, neither were afraid to ask questions. They were both able to identify the challenges faced by the local police force and it was felt that they would both contribute fairly and objectively to discussions and provide unbiased independent oversight of police complaints.

4 Compliance with Rule 4

- 4.1 Rule 4 of the Rules of Procedure of the States of Deliberation and their Committees sets out the information which must be included in, or appended to, motions laid before the States.
- 4.2 In accordance with Rule 4(1)(a), the Propositions contribute to the States' objectives in that the effective operation of the Commission is necessary to ensure that the public has confidence in the systems in place within the justice system.
- 4.3 In accordance with Rule 4(1)(c), the Propositions have been submitted to Her Majesty's Procureur for advice on any legal or constitutional implications.
- 4.4 In accordance with Rule 4(2)(a), the Propositions relate to the duties of the Committee to advise the States and to develop and implement policies on matters relating to its purpose including law enforcement, including policing and customs.
- 4.5 In accordance with Rule 4(2)(b), it is confirmed that the Propositions above were supported unanimously by the Committee Members.

Yours faithfully

COMMITTEE FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

GUERNSEY ELECTRICITY LIMITED – LICENCE EXCLUSIVITY IN THE CONVEYANCE AND SUPPLY AREAS OF THE ELECTRICITY MARKET

The States are asked to decide:-

Whether, after consideration of the policy letter entitled 'Guernsey Electricity Limited – Licence Exclusivity in the Conveyance and Supply Areas of the Electricity Market' dated 29th November 2021 they are of the opinion: -

1. To direct the Committee for Economic Development to issue a direction to the Guernsey Competition and Regulatory Authority as set out in paragraph 3.8 of the policy letter, requiring the Guernsey Competition and Regulatory Authority to maintain GEL's existing licence exclusivity in the supply and conveyance markets until such time as the States has considered and agreed both an updated Electricity Strategy and a new licensing framework for the energy sector to support the development of on-island renewables.

The above Proposition has been submitted to Her Majesty's Procureur for advice on any legal or constitutional implications in accordance with Rule 4(1)(c) of the Rules of Procedure of the States of Deliberation and their Committees.

ISLAND OF GUERNSEY

COMMITTEE FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

SUPPLY AREAS OF THE ELECTRICITY MARKET

The Presiding Officer
States of Guernsey
Royal Court House
St Peter Port
Guernsey

29th November 2021

Dear Sir,

1 Executive summary

- 1.1 At their meeting on 10 September 2021, the States of Deliberation approved the policy letter from the Committee for Economic Development, the Policy & Resources Committee and the States' Trading Supervisory Board on tariff regulation in respect of Guernsey Electricity Limited; and also an amendment proposed by Deputy de Sausmarez and seconded by Deputy Haskins in relation to licence exclusivity.
- 1.2 The Committee for Economic Development has now consulted with the Guernsey Competition and Regulatory Authority (GCRA) on a draft direction to meet the States' Resolutions. The Authority has confirmed its agreement with the draft direction, set out in paragraph 3.8.
- 1.3 The Committee for Economic Development has also consulted with the States of Alderney and the Chief Pleas of Sark. Both have confirmed their agreement with this approach.

2 Background – the regulation of the electricity market

- 2.1 The electricity market in Guernsey is regulated by the Guernsey Competition and Regulatory Authority (GCRA) in three distinct areas: generation; conveyance; and, supply. A licence is required in each area unless the scope of the activity concerned falls within the terms of a licence exemption established by the GCRA. Guernsey Electricity Limited (GEL) is licensed in each area and, in the case of the supply and conveyance markets, has protected licence exclusivity under Direction from the States at least until 31st January 2022 (albeit that exemptions from the requirement to hold a supply licence are available to other operators who hold a generation licence).

- 2.2 Under the terms of the Electricity (Guernsey) Law, 2001, the term “conveyance” covers the transportation of electricity from the generating station to the final substation. This is closely aligned to GEL’s high voltage (HV) network. The term “supply” encompasses Guernsey Electricity’s low voltage (LV) cabling that is provided between the final substation and the property receiving the electricity. In a small number of cases, supply activities can also encompass elements of the HV network, as some customers are supplied with HV directly. The breakdown of GEL’s current network is approximately one third HV and two thirds LV. It should be stressed that, under the legislation, supply activities extend beyond simply the retail arrangements GEL has in place for the sale of electricity to its customers, but also involves the provision and maintenance of the substantial proportion of the Island’s electricity network.
- 2.3 GEL does not have exclusivity in the generation sector of the market and it is open to other operators to apply to the GCRA for licences in this area.

3 The requirement to provide direction to the regulator

- 3.1 Under the provisions of the Regulation of Utilities Law, 2001¹, the States has the authority to give directions, inter alia, on any special or exclusive rights to be awarded to any licensee. Such directions can only be made upon the recommendation of the Committee for Economic Development, which in turn can only be made after statutory consultation with the GCRA. It was this process that was used to put in place the existing exclusivity arrangements for GEL.
- 3.2 The States of Deliberation has previously issued² States Directions to the Authority to issue Guernsey Electricity (GEL) exclusive licences in the conveyance and supply areas of the electricity market. These Directions are subject to any exemptions granted by the Authority under section 1(2) of the Electricity Law, 2001, and are for the period ending 31st January, 2022.
- 3.3 In 2020, the States considered and accepted a policy letter from the Committee for the Environment & Infrastructure on a new Energy Policy. Whilst this policy sets out the broad direction for the energy transition, it identified a requirement to develop an updated Electricity Strategy. This will provide an opportunity for the States to determine the future structure of the electricity market in Guernsey and, specifically, how it should be structured to support the development of the local renewable energy sector and what changes might be made to the centralised model currently in place. The Committee for the Environment & Infrastructure has indicated that it intends to submit this Strategy to the States by the end of 2022.
- 3.4 One of the Energy Policy’s other conclusions was that a new licensing framework in the energy sector would be required to support the development of on-island renewables. The policy letter did not specify what that licensing framework or who the regulator should be, albeit it did stress that the licensing framework should be appropriate, proportionate and cost-effective. It acknowledged that a review of the current market structures would be required as part of that work.

- 3.5 Having considered the policy letter, the States resolved³ to direct the Committee for Economic Development to undertake a technical consultation on a licensing framework for targeted competition to support establishing on-island renewables. Whilst it remains an identified priority of the new Government Work Programme, it is unlikely to be in place until the end of 2023.
- 3.6 In the interim, the Energy Policy specifically acknowledged the importance of taking steps to ensure that GEL could continue to maintain electricity supplies whilst awaiting a new licensing framework. Therefore, at their meeting on 10th September, 2021, and following their acceptance of an amendment to the proposals on the regulation of GEL's tariffs, the States resolved⁴ inter alia to instruct the Committee for Economic Development to take the necessary steps to recommend to the States by December 2021 that a direction be given to the Authority which provides for the exclusive licences issued to GEL covering conveyance and supply activities to continue, subject to any exemptions previously granted, until both the aforementioned Electricity Strategy and the review of licencing is completed. In the event that those pieces of work are not completed in 2024, the Committee for Economic Development has been directed to report back to the States with a review of the position by the December meeting of the States that year.
- 3.7 The explanatory note to the amendment referenced in 3.6 made it clear that its purpose was to provide for continuity within the electricity marketplace pending the completion of the aforementioned workstreams. It noted that there was a requirement to provide stability in the marketplace in the interim to ensure that GEL could continue to maintain continuity of existing electricity production arrangements. The amendment was also intended to guard against unintended consequences that might result from the expiry of GEL's exclusivity in the conveyance and supply markets before the States agreed a new Electricity Strategy. One such unintended consequence could be the creation of so called "micro grids" which, once in place, would be difficult to remove once the Electricity Strategy had been agreed, even though they might run counter to one of the pillars of the Energy Policy to "...facilitate a competitive energy supply market using shared critical infrastructure as appropriate".
- 3.8 The Committee for Economic Development has consulted with the GCRA before placing the propositions before the States. The GCRA has confirmed it is in agreement with the following:

That a Direction should be issued to the GCRA pursuant to section 3(1) of the Regulation of Utilities (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law, 2001 requiring it to maintain GEL's existing licence exclusivity in the supply and conveyance markets for the duration of GEL's licence until such time as the States has considered and agreed both an updated Electricity Strategy and a new licensing framework for the energy sector to support the development of on-island renewables.

³ Resolution 6 of Article 8 of Billet d'Etat XI of 2020

3.9 The Committee for Economic Development has also consulted with the States of Alderney and the Chief Pleas of Sark. Both have confirmed their agreement with this approach.

4 Compliance with Rule 4

Rule 4 of the Rules of Procedure of the States of Deliberation and their Committees sets out the information which must be included in, or appended to, motions laid before the States.

In accordance with Rule 4(1), the Propositions have been submitted to Her Majesty's Procureur for advice on any legal or constitutional implications.

In accordance with Rule 4(4) of the Rules of Procedure of the States of Deliberation and their Committees, it is confirmed that the proposition above has the unanimous support of the Committee for Economic Development.

In accordance with Rule 4(5), the Propositions relate to the duties of the Committee for Economic Development to advise the States on regulation in the economy.

In accordance with Rule 4(5), the Committee for Economic Development consulted with the Guernsey Competition & Regulatory Authority, the States of Alderney and the Chief Pleas of Sark.

29th November 2021

Dear Deputy Ferbrache,

Rule 4(2) Request: Preferred date for consideration by the States of Deliberation

In accordance with Rule 4(2) of the Rules of Procedure of the States of Deliberation and their Committees, the Committee for Economic Development requests that the proposition entitled "Guernsey Electricity Limited – Licence Exclusivity in the Conveyance and Supply Areas of the Electricity Market" be considered at the next available States of Deliberation meeting to be held on 26th January 2022.

Guernsey Electricity Limited (GEL) currently has protected licence exclusivity until 31st January 2022 in the conveyance and supply areas of the electricity markets under a previous direction of the States of Deliberation. Consideration of this Policy letter by the States of Deliberation at the States of Deliberation's meeting on 26th January 2022 would mean that, if the proposition is agreed by the States, there would be no gap in Guernsey Electricity's licence exclusivity in these areas of the electricity market. It should be noted that GEL does not have exclusivity in the generation sector of the market and it is open to other operators to apply to the GCRA for a licence in this area.

I would therefore be grateful if the Policy & Resources Committee would consider the Committee for Economic Development's request for this item to be debated at the States of Deliberation's meeting on 26th January 2022.

Yours sincerely

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

This Ordinance amends the temporary exemption from the requirement to obtain planning permission for a change of use of visitor accommodation to certain residential uses, in Class 9A of the Schedule to the Land Planning and Development (Exemptions) Ordinance, 2007. The exemption was inserted earlier in 2021 to reduce planning restrictions on such changes of use in response to the impact on the visitor accommodation sector of travel restrictions imposed as a result of the coronavirus pandemic.

The amendments extend the current dates in the exemption by a year so that it applies to a relevant change of use up until 31st December, 2022 or such later date as the Development & Planning Authority may prescribe by Regulations. A consequential amendment is also made to the date by which visitor accommodation premises must revert back to their former visitor accommodation use from 31st January, 2022 to 31st January, 2023 or such later date as the Development & Planning Authority may prescribe by Regulations. The Regulation making powers are given to the Development & Planning Authority to further extend the dates owing to the uncertainty as to the further impact of coronavirus.

A consequential amendment is also made to section 3(2) of the Land Planning and Development (Visitor Accommodation) (Amendment etc.) Ordinance, 2021 which disregards the period during which the temporary exemption is available for the purpose of calculating the period within which a planning compliance notice may be issued when a change of use has originally occurred in reliance upon the exemption.

The Land Planning and Development (Visitor Accommodation) (Amendment) Ordinance, 2022

THE STATES, in pursuance of their Resolutions of the  December, 2021^a, and in exercise of the powers conferred on them by sections 28, 48(5), 81 and 89 of the Land Planning and Development (Guernsey) Law, 2005^b, and all other powers enabling them in that behalf, hereby order:-

COMMITTEE FOR HOME AFFAIRS

A NEW GUERNSEY ANTI MONEY LAUNDERING/COMBATING THE FINANCING OF TERRORISM FORUM

The Presiding Officer
States of Guernsey
Royal Court House
St Peter Port

22nd November, 2021

Dear Sir

1 Executive Summary

- 1.1 It is becoming increasingly accepted internationally that jurisdictions which have close cooperation between the Anti-Money Laundering / Countering the Financing of Terrorism (AML/CFT) authorities (i.e. the public sector) and the private sector in partnership arrangements are more effective in efforts to counter-act the adverse effects of money laundering and terrorist financing, than those which do not have such arrangements in place. These Public and Private Partnerships (PPPs) are voluntary arrangements in which the coordinating authority for the PPP asks if the private sector members have information relevant to a particular case or cases and, if any of them do, it is a matter for the member(s) whether they provide information to the authority. Such PPPs do not replace the traditional mechanisms for obtaining confidential information but add to them.
- 1.2 The Joint Money Laundering Intelligence Taskforce (JMLIT), a PPP arrangement in the UK, has received particular attention in light of its effectiveness since it commenced operations in 2015. As at January 2021, JMLIT had completed 860 cases, secured £58 million in asset restraint and contributed to 250 arrests. In addition, over 6,800 suspected customer accounts linked to money laundering activity had been identified by JMLIT members, over 4,600 Suspicious Activity Reports (SARs) filed as a result of JMLIT cases, 4,000 customer accounts closed and 58 'Alerts' (typology strategic intelligence products) had been issued to the private sector.
- 1.3 Following the success of the UK model and the increasing traction of such structures internationally, with at least 20 national and 3 trans-national financial information-sharing partnerships currently in operation, it is proposed that the Bailiwick's Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU) should establish a similar task force in the Bailiwick of Guernsey. It is expected that this PPP, the Guernsey Integrated Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Intelligence Task Force (GIMLIT), will be established in 2022. In order for this to be achieved, Guernsey's legislation requires amendment to allow members of GIMLIT to provide information voluntarily to the FIU and to enable voluntary disclosures to be made within the regulated sector, under certain conditions, and to ensure that all members of GIMLIT can be properly security vetted. In particular, this would mean amendments to the Disclosure (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law, 2007 ("the Disclosure Law") and the Terrorism and Crime (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law, 2002 ("the Terrorism Law") are needed in order to provide aspects of the legal framework for the new PPP to be effective.

- 1.4 In considering the best model for Guernsey, the FIU has liaised with JMLIT and with the equivalent PPPs in Hong Kong and Singapore. These and other PPPs are confident that they have generated considerable value in addressing serious crime.

2 Guernsey Integrated Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Intelligence Task Force

- 2.1 The Guernsey task force would be similar to that in the UK and other models. The key point made by PPPs elsewhere is to ensure that there is trust between the public and private sectors (and between different firms in the private sector) and that this takes time to build.
- 2.2 GIMLIT would have an overriding objective, which is proposed to be the optimisation of the collective capabilities of the members of the task force so as to prevent, identify and disrupt financial crime, money laundering, terrorist financing and financing of weapons of mass destruction. This would be consistent with Guernsey's money laundering and financing of terrorism national risk assessment. In practice, in light of Guernsey's risk profile, GIMLIT would be almost entirely concerned with money laundering. The objective of PPPs in other jurisdictions is achieved in two main ways, first at an operational level by sharing of case-specific information by the public sector with the private sector members on the PPP and, second, at a strategic level building on common understandings of threats, risks and associated systems and controls required to mitigate risk (which includes the preparation of 'Alerts' outlining typologies, indicators and other allied material relevant to the jurisdiction). The FIU proposes to begin with the first of these two approaches.
- 2.3 However, it is important to stress that SARs will not be shared within GIMLIT. While case information might reflect the contents of one or more SARs (in the same way as any exchange of intelligence material), the GIMLIT framework would be different to the framework for reporting of suspicion of money laundering or the financing of terrorism. It will not be possible to identify any Guernsey party as a source of information leading to a request for further information from members of GIMLIT. This will be an important element in maintaining trust between the FIU and the private sector.

- 2.4 The industry sub-sectors and firms represented as members would be selected by the FIU from among those sub-sectors subject to AML/CFT obligations; each firm would select an appropriate officer or officers at senior level to represent it (for example, the money laundering reporting officer), This would be subject to the vetting procedures referred to below. It is typical for the starting point to be the inclusion of representatives of major banks and in the Guernsey context, it is envisaged that the membership of the task force would commence in this way. Representation from other sectors could be considered in due course once there has been operational experience of GIMLIT and the implications of the extension of membership comprehensively considered. Should representation be extended, the FIU might need to put in place information barriers between representatives of the different sectors so as to avoid possible conflicts of interest and mitigate any risk and concern about the use of the information. No extension of GIMLIT beyond banks would take place without consultation with the banking sector and any other affected sector.
- 2.5 In order to seek to mitigate risk and ensure trust between members of GIMLIT all of the members would be vetted by the FIU. Public authority representation would include officers of the Economic & Financial Crime Bureau, the Revenue Service, and supervisory authorities (the Guernsey Financial Services Commission and the Alderney Gambling Control Commission). Each member of the task force would sign a Memorandum of Understanding concerning the GIMLIT information sharing arrangements; this would be modelled on that used in the UK as that precedent has worked successfully. In addition, in light of the links between groups active in both the UK and Guernsey, this should increase trust with regard to the flow of information.
- 2.6 The FIU would make requests to members of GIMLIT for information; these would originate from two sources. First, the FIU would make requests for its own purposes. Second, it would share elements of requests for assistance received from domestic and international law enforcement agencies, financial intelligence units, and other PPPs such as JMLIT, to identify financial assets or products or to provide tactical intelligence about subjects or financial activity within the Bailiwick. The aim would be for each member of GIMLIT to search its databases and then provide the FIU (and, if that member considers it appropriate, other private sector participants) with any information it holds or can obtain from elsewhere in the group to which the member belongs) which is relevant to a request. The aim of the FIU in making the request would be to receive information that will or might assist in determining any matter in connection with a suspicion that a person is or has been engaged in financial crime, money laundering or the financing of terrorism or proliferation – or potentially other serious crime if the information points in that direction. The provision of information to the FIU through GIMLIT will be voluntary. That said, if information provided by the FIU to GIMLIT leads to a suspicion then the reporting requirements and obligations under the Disclosure and Terrorism Laws, and supporting regulations, will still be applicable.

- 2.7 In order to facilitate information sharing, including ensuring that members of GIMLIT are comfortable that they will receive a reasonable amount of information, the FIU will use a template document for its requests.
- 2.8 On receipt of information through GIMLIT, the FIU could utilise the provisions of the Disclosure Law or the Terrorism Law and supporting regulations as appropriate to formally request the information from the member. On receipt of the information, the FIU would undertake operational analysis and, if a requesting authority is involved, disseminate relevant intelligence to that authority.
- 2.9 The FIU needs no new legal powers to establish GIMLIT. However, the legislative framework on the provision of information sharing will require amendment for the effectiveness of GIMLIT to be assured, including the confidentiality provisions or other restrictions on sharing such information between the relevant authorities and the private sector.

3 Existing Powers in Relation to Provision of Information to the FIU

- 3.1 There is a range of circumstances in which Guernsey businesses subject to the AML/CFT framework can already provide information to the FIU.
- 3.2 First, businesses are required to report suspicion of money laundering and terrorist financing to the FIU under the Disclosure and Terrorism Laws. Linked with this, under the Disclosure (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Regulations, 2007, and corresponding regulations under the Terrorism Law, the FIU can require businesses to provide additional information, either after receipt of a report of suspicion, or when a business is identified in a third party's report.
- 3.3 Second, in the absence of a SAR from the private sector, the FIU can compel a business to provide information to it under the Disclosure Law and the Disclosure (Bailiwick of Guernsey) (Information) Regulations, 2019 (or, in terrorist financing cases, under the equivalent powers and supporting regulations under the Terrorism Law), in relation to a report from a domestic or foreign authority (a report for these purposes includes a request for information). For example, the FIU might receive a report which includes a request for information from an authority in another jurisdiction, and it might be appropriate to respond to that request by compelling a business in Guernsey to provide that information. Provision of both positive and negative information falls within these provisions.

By way of illustration of negative findings, if a foreign authority advises the FIU that an individual is under investigation and requests the FIU to find out whether that person has a business relationship in Guernsey for the purposes of their investigation, confirmation that the individual does not have a business relationship within this jurisdiction is just as relevant to the foreign authority's request as confirmation that the individual does have a relationship with a firm in Guernsey.

- 3.4 The FIU can also use its information gathering powers not only to make a request to a particular firm to provide information, but also to make a general request to the finance sector to establish whether a business relationship with a particular individual exists, and if so with whom within the Bailiwick. Once that has been clarified, the FIU can then use its powers under the Disclosure Law and supporting Disclosure Regulations provisions (or its equivalent powers under the Terrorism Law and supporting regulations) to obtain specific details from any entity that has a business relationship with the individual.
- 3.5 These powers are underpinned by "tipping off" provisions, which make it a criminal offence in certain circumstances to disclose information relating to SARs or to requests for information from other jurisdictions.

4 Proposed Changes

- 4.1 There are no legal barriers to prevent the FIU from cooperating with a foreign authority, including PPPs such as JMLIT. However, some amendments to the Guernsey legal framework are necessary in order to put in place a similar scheme for domestic purposes. This is because the existing information sharing gateways in the Disclosure Law, Terrorism Law and supporting regulations are not wide enough to permit the private sector to disclose confidential information to the FIU voluntarily (i.e. without the FIU using its formal powers under legislation to require information to be provided) or to enable the FIU to require information from the private sector in the absence of a domestic report of suspicion or foreign report of suspicion or request for information. In addition, there is currently no power for business participants to share information among themselves should they consider it appropriate to do so. These points can be addressed by making amendments to the Disclosure Law and the Terrorism Law by Ordinance. It is proposed that these amendments should be based on the provisions of the UK's Crime and Courts Act 2013, Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 and Terrorism Act 2000 which provide for disclosures within the UK's regulated sector subject to specified conditions. These amendments should be underpinned by regulation-making powers for the Committee for Home Affairs so that any practical issues about the sharing of information sharing which might arise once GIMLIT becomes operational can be easily addressed.

5 Confidentiality

- 5.1 The tipping off offences referred to above are likely to protect much of the information relevant to GIMLIT, but the possibility of cases where the criteria for those offences is not met cannot be ruled out. Therefore, while it is not envisaged that any firm within the GIMLIT environment will provide any confidential information to any external party, it would be as well to build trust by ensuring that members of the task force are aware of and acknowledge the sensitivity of the information provided to it by the FIU or other business participants and also to protect against the possibility that even inferences might be drawn as a result of a liaison within GIMLIT. In addition, foreign authorities will take comfort that information they provide will be circulated only within a secure environment, specifically via the FIU's secure online THEMIS Money Laundering Reporting Officer Portal. Accordingly, it is proposed that the Disclosure and Terrorism Laws should be amended along the lines of confidentiality provisions in the Civil Contingencies (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law, 2012. These provide that it is an offence for any member of the Civil Contingencies Authority, or any employee of the States of Guernsey engaged in work for the Authority, to unlawfully disclose any information, document or other article to which they have access by virtue of their position.
- 5.2 In addition, as indicated in paragraph 2.5 above, the FIU proposes to follow other PPP models and would require all participants in GIMLIT to sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU). This document will highlight the importance of confidentiality and the purpose(s) for which information obtained by GIMLIT members can be used.
- 5.3 Related to this, it is clearly important that all members of GIMLIT are properly vetted, including with regard to any previous convictions. Under the Rehabilitation of Offenders (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law, 2002, it is a general rule that the obligation to disclose details of previous convictions under any agreement or arrangement and the ability to ask questions about those convictions do not apply to convictions that are to be treated as spent by virtue of the passage of time. This general rule would apply to the proposed MOU underpinning participation in GIMLIT, unless it is subject to an exemption under the Rehabilitation of Offenders (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law, 2002 (Commencement, Exclusions and Exceptions) Ordinance, 2006 ("the 2006 Ordinance"). The effect of exemption under the 2006 Ordinance is that questions may be asked about any convictions a person has, irrespective of how long ago the convictions may have occurred. The exemption currently applies to people working at senior levels in the financial services sector, but only in respect of questions asked by an employer, or by the Guernsey Financial Services Commission for the purposes of the licensing process. This means it is not wide enough to cover questions asked by the FIU for the purposes of GIMLIT. It is therefore proposed that the 2006 Ordinance be amended to enable questions to be asked by the FIU about any convictions, whenever incurred, in relation to members of the private sector for the purposes of participation in GIMLIT.

- 5.4 In addition to an MOU the FIU propose to draft a Data Protection Impact Assessment (DPIA) which will identify and minimise the data protection risks that may need to be considered when developing GIMLIT. This DPIA will include the process that the FIU will adopt when sharing information with GIMLIT members, the legal basis for sharing information, and the controls and measures that will be put in place to reduce the risk of breaching data protection requirements.
- 5.5 There is a corresponding exemption for offices and employment listed at Part II of Schedule 1 to the 2006 Ordinance. The list includes some authorities with access to sensitive information linked to financial crime, such as the Law Officers Chambers, the Guernsey Police, the Customs and Immigration Service and the GFSC. Again, the effect of this is that for the purposes of assessing whether a person is suitable to work in those authorities, questions may be asked about any convictions the person has, irrespective of how long ago the convictions may have occurred. However, some other authorities within the Bailiwick whose functions also involve handling sensitive information linked to financial crime, such as the Revenue Service and the Registrar of Beneficial Ownership, are not on the list. It is clearly important that the legal framework on this important point is consistent in its application to all relevant authorities. It is therefore proposed that the 2006 Ordinance be amended to add to the list all authorities whose functions involve handling sensitive information linked to financial crime.
- 5.6 Finally, as indicated above, the GFSC and employers in the financial services sector are subject to an exemption in the 2006 Ordinance that enables them to ask questions about any convictions for the purposes of licensing and employment respectively. This reflects the importance of maintaining high standards in the financial services sector, given its importance to the economy and the need to continue to protect it from abuse. The same considerations apply to Alderney's eGambling sector, but there is currently no equivalent exemption applicable to the Alderney Gambling Control Commission licensing and certification process or to employers in the sector. It is therefore proposed to amend the 2006 Ordinance to introduce an exemption for these activities that corresponds to the exemption for the GFSC and employers in the financial services sector.

6 Compliance with Rule 4

- 6.1 In accordance with Rule 4(1)(a), the Propositions contribute to Priority 2 of the Government Work Plan by ensuring compliance with international agreements and standards.
- 6.2 In accordance with Rule 4(1)(b), the Committee has consulted with the following in relation to establishing the GIMLIT:

- (a) institutions in the private sector subject to AML/CFT requirements. There was a strong level of support of the establishment of GIMLIT. This policy letter takes account of the consultation responses, many of which were operational in nature.
 - (b) the Law Officers Chambers, the Economic & Financial Crime Bureau, the Guernsey Financial Services Commission, the Alderney Gambling Control Commission and the Revenue Service. All of these authorities are supportive of the establishment of GIMLIT.
 - (c) The Policy & Finance Committees of Alderney and Sark have been consulted on the proposals. Alderney are content with the proposals and Sark offered no comment.
- 6.3 In accordance with Rule 4(1)(c), the Propositions have been submitted to Her Majesty's Procureur for advice on any legal or constitutional implications.
- 6.4 In accordance with Rule 4(2)(a), the Propositions relate to the duties of the Committee to advise the States and to develop and implement policies on matters relating to its purpose including law enforcement, including policing and customs.
- 6.5 In accordance with Rule 4(2)(b) the propositions were supported unanimously by the Committee.
